To Whom It May Concern:

The ability to notify and alert large numbers of our population in the event of a local emergency has long been a problem for emergency service personnel. The City of Fullerton Fire Department has recognized this issue and taken steps to develop a strong, effective video cable public information system.

Currently, efforts are under way to seek possible grant funding for costs related to developing a master plan for an interactive television network to connect all fire stations in Orange County. The Fullerton Fire department strongly supports this endeavor. Our past experience in this field has proven that this resource can be a valuable tool for sharing public information. Should this project be successfully funded, we pledge our support to assist in achieving this county-wide goal.

The Orange County Fire Chiefs have given their endorsements to this project. They support the mission to solicit funding by Communications Support Corporation for the purpose of developing an interactive television network master plan.

Sincerely,
